

Physical
Theatre

U.K. Premiere

Pas Perdus

Les Argonautes (Belgium)

A circus show mixing theatre, tenderness and carpentry

permanently
sold out during the Avignon off festival 2008

If you only go to two shows this year, go see Les Argonautes twice!

The Ottawa Citizen

In a place where delusions of grandeur run rampant, everything can be assembled, everything can be climbed. This is burlesque of the greatest virtuosity.

Les Dernières Nouvelles d'Alsace

The boxes remember the time when they were trees.
Men remember they will end in a box.

So they play, climbing trees, building and riding horses or sailing fragile boats, with passion and agility, with you, and with a joyful hunger, to swallow the world in a big laugh.

6-30 Aug 2010 at 2:20 pm (off: 23&24 Aug)

Zoo Southside, Main House (venue #82)

117 Nicolson Street, Edinburgh, EH8 9ER

Press ticket booking : press@zoovenues.co.uk

Info : www.zoofestival.co.uk media contact: jan@argonautes.be 07972 189070 www.argonautes.be

Les Argonautes got together in Brussels in 1993. Since then they have worked to use their technical prowess in the arts of the circus to voice emotion through motion. In shows where derision rubs shoulders with the preposterous, the poetic and the pathetic, they move and are in turn moved.

They last performed in Edinburgh in 2003 as part of Aurora Nova's programme. This year they will be presenting Pas Perdus, a show with which they have been touring Belgium, France, Spain, Italy, Switzerland, Holland and the United States for the past three years.